Newspaper
in Education

Invest in West Virginia's classrooms for a brighter tomorrow!

With your support, West Virginia students receive the most up-to-date textbook available, our local area newspaper. By partnering with Newspapers in Education (NIE) your business will not only improve student literacy, but it will open a door to our children's future. NIE provides standards-based curriculum and newspapers to our local area classrooms to help teachers encourage a life-time of reading, create a fun and motivational learning environment and build student interest in the world around them. Your tax-deductible donation will bring today's world into our local West Virginia's classrooms. Each NIE Sponsor will receive public recognition for their level of sponsorship via thank you ads published in the Charleston Newspapers and website, as well as certificates of appreciation. Please mail this form in today or call the Charleston Newspapers NIE Coordinator at (304) 348-7906.
